

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS.

The Bureau of Statistics has issued a review of the foreign commerce of, and immigration to, the United States during the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1891. The total commerce of the fiscal year was the greatest in the history of the Government and exceeded that of 1890 by $82,191,803, while the commerce of 1890, exceeded that of the prior year by $159,606,063.

During the last fiscal year there was an increase of import's of merchandise, in the order in which they are named, in the following articles: Coffee, tin plates, chemicals, and drugs, India rubber, sugar and molasses, and a decline in the value of imports of wool, silk, hemp, jute, breadstuffs and animals.

The total value of exports of merchandise was $884,424,485, which is $39,519,214, in excess of 1890.

The increase in exports was in cotton, raw and manufactured, provisions, copper, iron and steel, and the value of the principal exports was: Cotton, $290,708,808; breadstuffs, $127,603,092; provisions, $133,176,038.

Since the new tariff has been in operation from October 6, 1890, to June 30, 1891, the total value of exports has been $630,203,007, as compared with $668,789,905, for the corresponding period of 1890. The value of imports admitted free during the nine months ended June 30, 1891, was $295,968,675, while the value of such imports for the corresponding period of 1890 was $208,983,873. During the same period the imports of merchandise paying duty were of the value of $834,924,840, as compared with $339,786,032, for the corresponding period of the previous year.

Since the new tariff went into effect 46.96 per cent. of the total value of merchandise imported came in free while in the corresponding period of 1890 only 34.92 per cent. came in free.

The exports of gold and silver during the last fiscal year amounted to $108,729,288, and the imports to $32,212,334, an excess of exports of $72,516,054. The exports of gold were $88,303,622 and imports $18,946,512, the excess of exports being $68,117,110, the largest of any year in the history of the country.

The principal articles of export were cotton, breadstuffs and provisions, which we can produce cheaper than other countries. Manufactured articles except those made of cotton, which is on the free list, do not figure to any great extent in our exports though certain kinds of machines and farming implements manufactured in the United States, are sold in Europe cheaper than at the factories where they are made.

Wool is among the imports which have fallen off in the last year, yet wool is three or four cents per pound cheaper in American markets to-day than it was a year ago.

IMMIGRANTS.

The Bureau of Statistics says the total number of immigrants which arrived in the United States during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1891, was 553,456, up against 451,319 for 1890.

Of the 405,654 of those immigrants who landed in New York 74,382 came from Germany; 35,424 from Ireland and 29,839 from England, Scotland and Wales, and 40,807 from Sweden and Norway. From Italy there swarmed over no less than 70,776 persons, of whom but 12,829 were females.

The ceremony of driving the last spike of the San Francisco and San Mateo Electric Railroad, took place at Ocean View last Wednesday. The road, which is the first electric railway built at San Francisco, starts at Market and Stewart streets and runs along the southern portion of the city to Colma, a distance of twelve and a half miles. A large number of prominent citizens of San Francisco and San Mateo were present and the address of the occasion was delivered by W. M. Bunker, editor of the Daily Report.

The Indianapolis Sentinel says the Ohio Democrats are going to placard the State from the lake to the river and from the Pennsylvania to the Indiana line with Mr. Blaine's famous statement that the McKinley law did not open a market for another bushel of wheat nor another barrel of pork. This and the failure of wool to advance will keep McKinley very busy trying to explain things to the farmers.

The New York Commercial Bulletin says: The feeling seems to be growing that it will be impossible to prevent the passage of a free coinage bill through both Houses of Congress next Winter. It is generally believed also that such a bill will be promptly returned to Congress by the President with his veto message, and that it will fail to pass over the veto.

A police count in Albany, New York gives that city 4,000 more people than the Porter census gave it.

MARYLAND DEMOCRATS.

Candidates Nominated by Acclamation. Special to the Journal.

BALTIMORE, July 30.—The Democratic State Convention was called to order by Hon. Barnes Compton, Chairman of the State Central Committee, ex-Governor Henry Lloyd was chosen Chairman.

Dr. Frank T. Shaw of Carroll county placed in nomination Frank Brown for Governor.

The other nominations also made by acclamation amid much enthusiasm, were John H. Roe of Baltimore for Attorney General, J. Frank Ford of St. Mary's county, Clerk of the Court of Appeals and Marion Smith of Kent county Comptroller.

Following is a synopsis of the Democratic platform: After commanding the candidates nominated it take up matters of national interest and contrasts unfavorably the Administration of President Harrison and the late Republican Congress with the Democratic Congress.

It declares that the Republican Administration and Congress has disregarded the pledges of its party with regard to civil service reform and the reduction of taxes. Incident to the tariff and civil service of the United States as a whole to-day, it declares it is a partisan organization doing political service for the Administration by which it is employed.

President Harrison and the Republican Congress found on their advent to power a large surplus in the treasury, left by an economical Democratic administration. The surplus told a plain tale to the people, demonstrating that the taxes imposed by the Republican administration are in excess of the needs of a Government economically administered, and therefore unnecessary and unjust. In place of the reduction which the people were led to expect, the finances of the country have been mismanaged, and speculative and commercial disasters have followed in its train. The surplus was wasted in extravagant expenditures and unjust and unnecessary taxation is continued. The Republican party found on the advent of Harrison to office that the people were no longer divided by sectional lines, but were prosperous and thoroughly united.

The Republican party, through the agency of its Speaker, had deprived Democratic Representatives of their rightful seats and sought to perpetuate its power and destroy autonomy in several States by means of the notorious Force bill. The Democratic party is deeply grateful to those Senators and Representatives who contributed to defeat the obnoxious measure, and more especially to the Hon. Arthur P. Gorman, whose leadership contributed largely to its defeat.

The existing tariff system, the platform declares, casts an unnecessary burden upon the people, tends to accumulate enormous wealth in the hands of a few and to promote monopoly. These abuses, it believes, can only be corrected by the election of a President and Congress pledged to a careful and thorough revision of the tariff system.

A dollar in gold coin and a dollar in silver coin should be of equal exchangeable value, the platform declares, in all markets of the United States, and any attempt to depreciate by legislation either of these metals ought to be deprecated and condemned.

The platform closes with an endorsement of Senator Gorman for re-election by the next Assembly to the Senate.

A Horrible Murder. Special to the Journal.

ELGIN, Ill., July 30.—A horrible crime for which the author will not suffer occurred at the Northern Illinois Insane Hospital here to-day.

Fireman George Lindsay had for his helper John Anderson, a quiet patient and they were in the coal house, no others being present and the lunatic became possessed with a sudden madness, killed Lindsay with a heavy hammer, being caught in the act of thrusting the unconscious dying man into the furnace. Anderson is a man of 45, whose mania is of a religious nature, and it is six years since he came from Rockford. He had never shown himself to be homicidal. The coroner's verdict holds no one guilty of the crime.

Persecuting the Jews. Special to the Journal.

BOSTON, July 30.—The Russian Jews who arrived yesterday tell pitiful stories of the Russian officers who ordered all the inhabitants of the town of Slabotky to leave their homes. They became so enraged at this wholesale injustice that they set fire to their houses and destroyed them. For this many were sent to Siberia and others were subjected to horrible cruelties. One man was suspended by the wrists for two hours.

Others told harrowing stories of general atrocities practiced upon the race by Russian soldiers and of extremely unjust laws in force against the Jews. Any Russian Christian who wished to possess himself of the property of a Jewish neighbor, can obtain it by paying one-tenth of its value to the mayor or a government representative who will thereupon give him authority to expel the Jewish owner and install himself as proprietor. It is an ordinary occurrence for a Jew's house to be burned over his head, or a Jew to be stoned on the streets and it has become a common saying in parts of Russia "kill a Jew and pay 20 roubles" ($10). No other punishment is ever inflicted for the murder of a Jew, and even this fine is seldom imposed. Some Jewish soldiers in the Russian army wanted to rebel because their families were maltreated by Russian soldiers and the Jewish soldiers were all placed under arrest.

Secretary Foster on Alien Laborers. Special to the Journal.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The Secretary of the Treasury has written F. G. Neidringhans, of St. Louis, in reply to the query regarding the importation of skilled workmen for his tin plate mills, saying no regulations have been issued by the Department prescribing forms relating to that subject. It is not the practice to express opinions or make advanced rulings on hypothetical cases that may arise, but least Neidringhans might draw improper inferences of the permission, his attention is called to the fifth section of the Alien Contract Labor Act, and the suggestion made.

7:35 P. M.—Secretary Foster is not prepared at this time to express any opinion as to whether skilled labor for the St. Louis Stamping Company cannot be otherwise obtained than by the importation of alien laborers. The Secretary does not understand that it was the purpose of the Superintendent of Immigration in a recent letter to Neidringhans to express any opinions other than those involved above.

Harry Patton Shoots Pete Nelson. Special to the Journal.

SHREWDON, July 30.—Harry Patton, a laborer residing at Locketford, in this county, this evening shot Pete Nelson, a renter farmer, through the neck, and also through the body just above the heart. The Doctors say that Nelson cannot live. Last Sunday Nelson was drunk and noisy, and Constable Dial to quiet him, put handcuffs on him with the assistance of Patton and others. Nelson was drinking again to-day and followed Patton about town. The latter told him to go away, but he kept after Patton, and shortly after 8 o'clock to-night Nelson took hold of Patton, and the latter shot twice. Patton has wife and several children, but Nelson is unmarried. The shooter is in custody at Locketford, and will be brought to the county jail in the morning.

Will of the Late Mrs. Hopkins—Searles. Special to the Journal.

SALEM, Mass., July 30.—The will of the late Mrs. Hopkins—Searles, of Methuen, was filed for probate to day. It bequeaths all her property of whatsoever kind and wheresoever situated to her husband, Edward F. Searles, his heirs, executors, administrators and assigns forever. The executors of the will are Edward F. Searles and Mrs. Searles' partners, Thomas E. Stillman and Thomas Hubbard, who are exempted from giving bonds. The above comprises the entire diction and will save fifty or seventy-five words legal verbiage.

Convicts Attempt to Gain Their Liberty. Special to the Journal.

YUMA, A. T., July 30.—This morning when eighty convicts employed in building the town levee along the Gila river were turned out from the Territory Prison under charge of the prison guards, two Mexicans, Francisco Lopez and Galindo Lopez, at the rear end of the line jumped upon Guard Espe and took his rifle away and tried to bain him. Espe drew a revolver and fired, wounding Lopez in the back. The other prisoner attempted to run away, but was soon halted by the Superintendent. Both convicts are in the Penitentiary for long terms and are old offenders.

Not Drowned, But Enjoying City Life. Special to the Journal.

WOODLAND, Cal., July 30.—On June 13th last Mrs. Kitty Winnenger, wife of J. W. Winnenger of Woodland, disappeared from Santa Cruz. She left a note saying she had drowned herself, and her hat and shawl were found on the beach. Since then Mr. Winnenger has mourned his wife as dead. A few days ago, however, he commenced proceedings for a divorce, and related how his wife, instead of drowning herself, had eloped to San Francisco with a young man. His first intimation that his wife was alive was when he received a note from her asking for reconciliation.

The Desert Lake Holds Its Own. Special to the Journal.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—Superintendent Durkow of the Salton Salt Works in San Diego county arrived here to-day to confer with the Directors of that enterprise. He states that the lake on the Colorado desert keeps at one level, the evaporation of the water apparently equaling the overflow from the Colorado river. The future of the salt industry in that section was problematical, he said, for no one could tell whether or not the water would recede.

WHAT IS

SCROFULA

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimpls, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors"; which, fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or afflictions, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can It Be CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"My daughter Mary was afflicted with scrofulous neck from the time she was 22 months old till she became six years of age. Lumps formed in her neck, and one of them, after growing to the size of a pigeon's egg, became a running sore for over three years. We gave her Hood's Sarsaparilla, when the lump and all indications of scrofula entirely disappeared, and now she seems to be a healthy child." J. S. CARLILE, Naughton, N. J.

Lady Burton.

Lady Burton, the widow of the late Sir Richard Burton, the illustrious traveller, eminent author and oriental scholar, has formed the topic of conversation of late in literary circles in the English speaking world. She, with her husband, had lived in many eastern countries. It was said that he was the master of thirty-five languages and dialects. His wonderful literal translation of the Arabian Nights was printed, but not published. It created a great sensation among scholars. For some fourteen years before his death he collected material for the writing of a book which was called the "Scented Garden," a translation from the Arabic. Its character was such that it could only be circulated privately. The day before his death Sir Richard called Lady Burton into his room where he was working on the last half page of the Arabic manuscript. He said it would be finished the following day and that he would never write another book on the subject. "I am afraid, he said, "that it will make a great row in England because the "Arabian Nights" was a boy's tale in comparison to this." Some days after his death Lady Burton read the manuscript, and was in torture what to do about it. In the meantime she was offered upwards of $30,000 for it. She was advised to bury it by one friend. Another said, "let a man manage it for you." Her reply was, "I can take in the world, but I cannot deceive God Almighty, who holds my husband's soul in his hands." Ultimately she burnt it, thus for conscience sake sacrificing $30,000, which would have purchased for her a handsome annuity—and she was left with very limited means. Lady Burton says that her late husband was the purest, the most refined and modest man who ever lived. Lady Burton has certainly proved herself to be one of the most self-sacrificing of women.

SURVEYORS DIFFER.

Towns Sinking and Mountains Raising.

The Bridgeport Chronicle-Union says: In 1871 Von Schmidt gave the altitude of Bridgeport as 6,651 feet above sea level; in 1885 railroad surveyors placed it at 6,835, and in 1890 it was given at 6,430. If these figures are correct this town has sunk 212 feet in 19 years, 196 of which are within five years; and Mono Lake, by the same surveys, has risen only 1,756 feet—317 feet above Bridgeport. It is said that figures won't lie—if correct. We cannot swallow the Bridgeport surveys, let alone the Mono Lake survey. The surveys in the mountains of California have been very inaccurate, either through rascality or ignorance—or both.

FLORISTON NOTES.

The Carcass of a Horse in the River.

A correspondent of the JOURNAL writes from Floriston:

"On July 12th, a horse and a carriage and its occupants were precipitated into the Truckee river while crossing the arroyo at Cuba. The occupants of the carriage barely escaped with their lives and the horse was drowned. The carcass lodged at various places in the river, and is now on a rifle at Floriston, with deep water on both sides. This may be of interest to water drinkers.

"The fishing is good at Floriston, the bait being "flies," and the boys are landing many trout."

Food for the Superstitions.

The New York Sun says: The funeral of William Hanlon, who was killed Monday in Clinton, Iowa, by falling from a trapzeze, took place yesterday. March 13th Hanlon was at dinner, the number of guests at which was thirteen. He was the thirteenth man to arrive, and every one said jokingly that he would die within the year. The host tried to secure a fourteenth man, but failed. July 13th, at the age of thirty-one, Hanlon was killed. His funeral took place from Thirteenth street, and the number of the lot in which he was buried was lot thirteen.
